enemy had captured the school-house

enemy had captured the school-house and we must go to the church. His brother, who is a frail Tar-heel of six feet four, and weighs 200, said he guessed "the professor" would speak in the school house. Taking up the line of march, we found that a generous Republican had opened the academy building, lighted the lamps, and several prominent Republicans were out to hear me.

I saw the old gang who helped ambush the Democrats two years ago, in evidence. They were drinking 44 Winchester blue-steel whisky, loading their guns, and preparing for the festivities. Two Republican spell-binders had been flying the eagle there that day, and a Democrat was looked upon in disfavor. But my muscular friend, the deputy, and his trail brother assured the crowd that they were

I opened up, and before I was on the floor 20 minutes the enemy, marched in. They set down a jug containing—kerosene, I suppose, and heard me out. I told them I was a friend of farmers sal-mill men, manazite miners, and actual makers of contraband whisky. As his they howled in delight and fired by file, a salute of fifteen guns. I told a joke old enough to wear whiskers which they encased with a salute of 3 guns. I waited for the smoke to rise and told them that I appreciated their rank, unstinted hospitality, and thanked another volley.

The Democrats then waked up to the priorities, and a fusillade rang out of some 60 shots. "I was in a cold sweat, my hair standing up like the quills of the fretful porcupine, but I expressed my unalloyed delight. I spoke an hour and left them shouting. They didn't seem out of humor, but were mostly exuberant. I learn that they said was a "darned nice feller." Bob Morris, who was with me, said they mean to honor me. That if they did not raise like me, they would have shot a button off my coat. I am glad I had a good impression, but Caesar hospitality is too lavish with the stranger.

M. L. WHITE.
DECATUR.

Arthur Laurell in company with his mother, returned from Royester Ind., last week.

J. K. Butch stepped on a nail and received a very painful wound.

B. P. Luttre bought 30 acres of land of Jeff. Wilson for $250.

Evans William and Miss Lola Wade were married at Jamestown on the 18. We extend our most hearty congratulations.

Work has been commenced on the Friendship church by Mr. John Anderson and we expect a good job.

W. H. Walters sold a calf to C. Wade Walters for $10.

Wade & Eutcher have moved their mill to J. H. Smith's farm north of here.

Mrs. Belle Harris, who has been in poor health for some time, is no better.

We understand that a young man came town a few nights ago and peddled gallon of liquor.

WOOD FARM FOR SALE.

I will sell my farm, known as the E. P. Wiegner farm, situated 2 1/2 miles from Columbia on the Stafford road near Sulphur creek, containing 263 acres. This farm is well improved. It is one of the best watered farms in the county and is in a good community. Twenty acres in timber. The best lot

AT A BARGAIN.

JOS. H. CHANDLER,
Campbellsville, Ky.

FOR SALE.—One hundred acres of land about six miles east of Columbia. One mile from Stanford road, from two to three hundred dollars worth of timber. Reasonable terms: For an information apply to

J. S. Breeding,
Eunice, Ky., or Osa Breeding,
Vester, Ky.

Every one who is able and who is interested in elevating the business of Columbia should give something to the proposed Training School. It is an enterprise that this community cannot afford to lose.

THE FARMER PAYS THE TABS

THE FARMER PAYS THE TARIFF
Experience with the Coal Trust and the beef barons, "merger" inclined readers to an attitude of philosophical doubt concerning the promise of the new $50,000,000 Harvester Trust of "substantial benefits both to the consumer and manufacturer"—the consumer being the American farmer, whose welfare is the basis of our prosperity.

The "economies in production" of which trust promoters in this case say so much will in this case be realized. They are already indicated in the prospective "paying off" of 19,000 salesmen and many clerks, martyrs to prosperity. But the merger makers, noting the public, will get the benefit.

With the Dingley duty of 20 per cent on farm machinery the American can market is controlled by American makers. Our factories, the biggest in the world, have combined to exact the last penny of tribute at home while marketing their surplus abroad at lower rates. Already we sell more than $16,000,000 worth of farm machinery per year in other countries—more than a million dollars worth each to Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany and Argentina about a million in Australia.

The American farmer pays the tariff; the foreign buyer of farm machinery gets the benefit of the only "competition" it leaves possible.—New York World.

THE ADAIR COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Wednesday

Adair County News Co.

(INCORPORATED.)

CHAS. S. HARRIS, Editor.

Democrat newspaper devoted to the interests of the city of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Postoffice as second class matter.

WED, NOVEMBER 5 1902.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
J. P. HARRISON,
OF Wayne.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER,
C. C. McCHORD,
OF Washington.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For State Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce H. H. HENNINGER, Wayne county, a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to election after the Democratic party.

THE FIFTH YEAR CLOSES.

This, the 52nd issue, closes the 5th year of The News. It seems but a span, but a short while since we wrote our salutary introducing our first effort in newspaper work, setting forth our desire to make The News a factor in advancing the common good in this part of the State. Whether we have kept faith with our promise and whether the paper has accomplished good are questions we leave for those who have kept watch over its efforts and noted the advancement made in this section.

The News has sought to arouse public spirit and to aid in the advancement of our town, county and this entire part of the State. Many of its efforts have been crowned with success. Many have been tramped under foot, but no amount of discouragement has changed its purpose or retarded its clamor for an upward and onward march to better conditions on the part of our people. We have been modest in asserting our views on questions affecting the moral and industrial changes of this section, but with constancy and with all the earnestness of our make-up we have commended every right course and every effort to change the environment of business in this part of the State. In this, the closing of our fifth year, we acknowledge our gratitude to the many who have stood so loyally to this publication and whose unflinching support has made it possible for The News to grow in circulation and we trust in worth to this section of the State. We also extend our thanks to those who have patronized its columns in advertising and feel that its readers have proven to them that advertising is bread cast upon the waters, that the increase in business follows.

The patrons of our job office have our unbounded thanks and we can only promise, as we have in the past, just what you want on the shortest time possible and for conservative prices.

The News is still growing in circulation and its purposes and aims will be in accord with its past.

We ask an unstinted patronage from the business interests of this section and we pledge a faithful, persistent effort to give full and complete compensation in return.

Rev. G. W. Biggs, a prominent minister of the Southern Methodist Church, settled at J. Carr, the proprietor at a boarding house at Paducah, one day last week. The minister was laboring under the impression that Mr. Carr had struck his child. The latest information is that Rev. Biggs will not be prosecuted.

Consumptives in Indiana have adopted the open air treatment. Fifteen persons, living in Indianapolis, who are afflicted with this disease, slept out during the summer. They claim that their health is improving and the practice will be kept up during the winter.

A new 18-cent postage stamp is soon to be issued, the first of that denomination ever put out by the Government.

ELECTION RETURNS.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5, 9:30 a. m. ADAM COUNTY NEWS.
New York Republican by 6,000 to 9,000. Indiana Republican by 25,000. Everything largely Democratic in Kentucky except Bowling for Congress in the 11th. Signed, VREELAND.

The above telegram reports only from two doubtful States and shows both in the Republican column. At this hour we have no correct idea as to the results in other parts of the country but feel safe in saying that the next Congress will not be so heavily Republican. Kentucky has swung back into line and rolls up a nice majority in all doubtful districts.

VOLE OF ADAM COUNTY

But little interest was manifested here in the election, and a very light vote was polled. The county, however, has given its usual Republican majority, the Republicans voting much better than the Democrats. The following is the vote of the county by precincts:

East Columbia, Boring, 80; Harrison, 100; Stone, 18.
West Columbia, Boring, 88; Harrison, 57; Stone, 7.
Gradyville, Boring, 130; Harrison, 52; Stone, 8.
Cane Valley, Boring, 147; Harrison, 60; Stone, 17.
Glenville, Boring, 62; Harrison, 65; Stone, 10.
Harmony, Boring, 88; Harrison, 80; Stone, 2.
Kniffey, Boring, 67; Harrison, 25; Stone, 8.
Elroy, Boring, 66; Harrison, 59; Stone, 7.
Pellyton, Boring, 28; Harrison, 31; Stone, 2.

The returns from Milltown, Kellner, Little Oak and White Oak have not been received up to the time we go to press. Our information is that Milltown cast 97 votes and gave a Democratic majority. The other three precincts gave Republican majorities. Mr. Boring's estimated majority in the county is placed at from 875 to 400.

Too much bitterness got into the judicial fight in the Pulaski district, and Judge T. Z. Morrow and Mr. G. W. Shadon, who were making the fight for the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge, withdrew in favor of O. H. Wadley, who was a rip-roaring Democrat a few years ago—attending the State Democratic conventions as a delegate, and if he failed to be placed on the most important committee he would look as sour as a crab-apple. He has always hankered for pie and it begins to look like he is going to get a slice.

The Rev. Dr. J. W. McGarvey, president of the Bible College of Kentucky, Lexington, last Sunday, with his wife, withdrew from the Broadway Christian church, which he founded, because the congregation, contrary to his views, voted for installing an organ.

Secretary Root has approved the plan to expend $500,000 to provide reading rooms, gymnasiums and other substitutes for the canteen at military posts. A few snake exhibits judiciously included might also make the absent count less noticed.

Mr. Hubert Vreeland, of Jefferson county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture. He has been Mr. Hall's assistant since that gentleman went into offices making a very efficient helper.

The election is over and we take the opportunity of informing the Republicans of the Eleventh District that Mr. Boring has certainly been elected. It is not likely that Mr. Harrison will contest.

The National Fox Hunter's Association will be held at Bowling Green November 10. It promises to be interesting to the lovers of fox hunters, that is those who are fond of running them—

John A. Walton, of Bowling Green, served six years in the regular army, but failed to get killed. Last Wednesday he tried to strychnine a route and went out in a hurry.

Much credit is due the Democratic Herald for pulling Mr. Boring through.

SOMERSET.

Not seeing anything in your valuable paper from this place I send you a few items. Business is quite lively here.

The new electric light plant will soon be completed and Somerset will no longer be in darkness.

Mrs. Mattie Taylor and daughter, Miss Jennie, and Mrs. Sue Vaughn and little daughter, passed through Somerset yesterday for Georgetown where they expect to spend the winter.

There will be a show at the Gem Opera House to-morrow night. Play "A Normandy Wedding." Somerset has fine Opera House as there is in Southern Kentucky.

Messrs. Luther and Marcus Phelps were visiting the family of C. L. Winfrey, recently.

Dr. J. A. Bolin and wife, of Caintown, are visiting the family of A. W. Cain, this city.

The Cumberland pig line is progressing nicely already having about eight miles put through and giving employment to one hundred men.

Somerset now has a daily paper and we are looking forward for great improvements in the near future. There is great talk of having a glass factory here. The arrangements for the establishment of a factory have been practically completed.

Mrs. John Warren and daughter, of Jamestown, were stopping at C. L. Winfrey's on their return home from Texas and Tennessee, where they have been visiting relatives.

Reports from Georgetown College show that all the pupils from Somerset are highly pleased.

Your writer is glad to note the rapid improvements that are being made in Columbia, having many relatives and friends living in and near your town.

We think the Methodist Training School will be a success.

Success to The News is the wish of your writer.

Mr. Melvin A. Taylor, an Adair county boy, who is now located in Billboro, Texas, sends a dispatch to Mr. S. H. Harris, member of the selling committee, subscribing $5 to the School. This shows that Mr. Taylor is yet interested in the property of Adair. This we know that is the gift is highly appreciated. We trust that other former Adair county citizens will be thoughtful.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The most common expression in Columbia for the last 10 days was, "how much do we like now?" While we are in position to know as much of the work and the amount subscribed as any one, we are frank to say that we do not know the exact amount contributed, but feel safe in saying that we are short a few hundred dollars of the amount required by the Educational Board. In the last week the greatest effort of the can has been made by the local committees and the result of that effort is indeed gratifying.

Could this work, with like results, be kept up for a few more days, the proposition could be closed. The importance of moving forward with this proposition, until it is crowned with success ought to arouse the people of this town and county. It takes $8,000 to close the deal and it is not a certainty until the amount has been subscribed and the contract signed by the interested parties. To stop now would be equal to a calamity and to cease work may mean a loss.

"Almost cannot afford."

"Almost is too tall."

"THE RAILROAD."

Mr. C. L. Corwell, a surveyor of Louisville, reached Columbia last Thursday night with the great party of Friday morning the surveying of the route from this place to Campbellville was commenced. The immediate cause to be general was that the road will be built, and the people of this section have perfect confidence in Mr. Ashby's ability to push the line rapidly as possible.

The Courier-Journal of last Thursday had the following to say concerning the enterprise:

Evidence is multiplying that the proposed interurban electric road from Campbellville to Columbia is only the forerunner of a network of such lines in Central Kentucky and the great part of the backing for the Campbellville-Columbia road is to be furnished by the Indianapolis syndicate headed by Messrs. Pappert and Theagar.

The syndicate has already started the first of a group of electric lines in Southern Indiana.

Nearly all the necessary options for the right of way for the new road have been secured. The final survey has been in progress under the direction of Mr. C. L. Corwell.

The road will open up a rich timber section and should do a big business. Two hundred teams are employed at present on the new line, and the road is to be built to Campbellville. The line is charged is forty cents a hundred, and the turpentine toll amount to $2 for a hundred. The road may be extended to Burkesville.

Mr. Ben Evans recently bought a new bull which does not look like a bull. He has a series of the land from which he hulled 40 bushels and did it in a very short time. Any one who has paid to hull would not want to get Mr. Evans to hull them.

Mr. Tim Collins sold the little green brick in the east corner of the square, last week, to Tutt & Beard for $200. They now own all the buildings on that block, excepting the two small frames, the property of Eld. Marion Harman's children.

Traveling Salesmen will be glad to learn that Mr. C. L. Smith has accepted his old position with the Columbia Livestock. He knows the Country and is one of the salesmen who travel the roads. Staples, Robertson & Co. made no mistake in securing his services.

Rev. T. L. Hulse preached quite an able sermon at the Union Church on Sunday night last. This was his first sermon in his new pulpit. He was certainly made a good impression on his audience. We predict for him much success in the ministry.—Monticello Courier.

Last Thursday Mr. Sid Caldwell, who lives near Portland, this county, had a narrow escape from death. He was upon his farm and was attacked by a bull. Mr. Caldwell was knocked down and two of his ribs broken and he was severely bruised. He is now confined to his bed.

Mr. Jake Ledford, who was a successful salesman for Mondel Weinstein & Co., for twelve years has severed his connection with that house and is now traveling for the well-known firm, Swann, Abraham & Co. He will cover the territory South of Columbia, and will carry the line of hats, etc.

There is said to be a great many quail in Adair county and the sporting fraternity is only waiting until after the 15th of this month when the hunting season opens to try and get some. Pheasants and wild turkeys are scarce.

Last Monday Mr. W. O. Pelley subscribed $50 to the proposed school to be located here and on Tuesday he donated his note by publishing a $50 bill on us. He is therefore the first in putting up the cash for this institution.

HOT SHOT.

If you give some fellows a talent wrapped in a napkin to start with in business, they would swap the talent for a gold brick and lose the napkin; and there are others that you could start out with just a napkin, who would set up with it in the dry goods business in a small way and then coax the other fellow's talent into it.

Pay day is always a month off for the spendthrift, and he is never able to realize more than 99 cents on any dollar that comes to him. But a dollar is worth 100 cents to a good business man, and he never spends the dollar.

I always lay it down as a safe proposition that the fellow who has to break open the baby's band for care toward the last of the week isn't going to be any Russell Sage when it comes to trading with the old man's money.

When I was a young fellow and out of a place I always made it a rule to take the first job that offered, and to use it for bait. You can catch a minnow with a worm, and a bass will take your minnow. A good fat bass will tempt an otter, and then you've got something worth skinning.

Adam invented all the different ways in which a young man can make a fool of himself and the college yet at the end of them is just a trill that doesn't change education.

There are times when it's safest to be lone some. Use a little common-sense caution and common sense. You can stock a store with those three commodities, when you get enough of them. But you've got to begin getting them young. They ain't catching after you toughen up a bit.

Seeing the world is like charity—it covers a multitude of sins, and, like charity, it ought to begin at home.

The only animal which the Bible calls a peasant is a snail, and that's both good doctrine and good natural history.

You must learn not to overwork a dollar any more than you would a horse. Three per cent is a small loan for it to draw; six, a safe one; when it pulls in ten for you it's working out west end you're got to watch to see that it doesn't back; when it makes twenty you own a blame good critter or a mighty foolish one, and you want to make dead sure which, but if it draws a hundred it's playing races or something just as hard on horses and dollars and the first thing you know you won't have even a carcass to haul to the glue factory.

EASY DIVORCE DANGER.

Easy divorce means a loose marriage tie. It means that husband and wife, instead of bearing with one another's shortcomings, instead of seeking to accommodate themselves to the small, unseparable disappointments or irritations of married life, rush off to court and ask release.

Forty-one divorce cases were on the docket of Hart III. of the New York Supreme Court yesterday. One hundred and thirty undecided divorce separations and annulment of marriage cases have already been placed on the calendar for November and new cases are scheduled every day, says the New York American.

No doubt a proportion of these suits are the outgrowth of intolerable wrong and incurable misery, but it is also certain that many of them would never have been thought of were it not that the idea of divorce has become familiar to the American mind.

Were divorce difficult, were it so organized by deep social odium when lightly sought, fewer young men and women would enter the marriage state with the reserved intention of quitting it should perfect happiness not result.

The chaos of our divorce laws is a national law. There should be uniform throughout the Union. Here is work for Congress if the state cannot be brought to do their duty.

Public opinion must be respected by lawmakers of course, and public opinion in the United States does not take the religious view of matrimony as a

"But I have saved my text until the last, and here it is:

"What wait I for? my hope is in God."

"Some people are waiting to talk about this matter of religion. But talk never did accomplish anything."

"Others say I am waiting to think about it—there is no use to think about anything so plain. Others say they are waiting for the church to get right. If that is what you are waiting for you will be in hell a-fryin before that happens."

"Some say the hypocrites are in their way. If a hypocrite is in your way he must be ahead of you. Get in the lead and he won't bother you."

"Others say, 'I am waiting to be fitted.' If that is what you are waiting for, you would be in hell a thousand years before you are fitted. This is as idiotic as a man refusing to come in out of the rain until he gets dry."

FROM KANSAS.

BELLE PLAINS, Oct. 25, 1902.

Editor of the News:

Thinking perhaps you or some of your readers would like to have a line from this place, I thought I would drop you one or two.

First, I wish to correct a statement I saw in your paper two weeks since, which was, a snow storm and sleet was raging in Central Kansas. We have had no snow as yet; been warm and nice. Even up to now our wheat is looking just splendid—almost hides a rabbit. The cattle are now grazing on the wheat and will run on it all Spring and will get big fat, just as fast as if running on grass in mid Summer.

Our wheat crop was a little short this year, made from 12 to 15 bushels per acre. Our corn is good, will make from 40 to 50 bushels, county average. This is a fine country. Land has advanced considerably in the last two years. It is now worth from 40 to 90 dollars per acre and hard to buy at that price. There is one drawback to farming here, the scarcity of farm labor. I have been paying $1 and $1.50 per day all the Fall and have had none as at that price.

Well it will soon be election time again, and I hope the Democrats in the old 11th will come out and put the X under the rooster. I think Democratic principles are right, and I am going to make my X under the rooster.

Any time I can serve you at this place, call on me; will be glad to do any thing I can for you and your valuable paper. Regards to you and all Kentucky friends.

FAMOUS BUILDING.—Mr. J. W. Duff, who lives on the Jesse F. Murrell old farm, a few days ago tore down the famous Murrell school-building and will use the logs in a new barn. The timbers of the old building were in a remarkable state of preservation, and the logs are as perfectly sound as the day they were built into the house. They are of yellow poplar and are about one hundred years old. This was probably the most historic non-religious building in Warren county, and the host of splendid men and women at one time pupils of the great teacher, but now scattered all over the United States, will learn of its passing away with sincere regret. Of late years, many of those taught within its walls have returned to the school-house and carried away clip and pieces of logs as mementoes of long ago—Glasgow Times.
